The Master's Message

Brethren,

When November arrives, the first thought for many of us turns to Thanksgiving. While the food is undoubtedly the star of the show, the true significance lies in the spirit of gratitude and the gathering of family and friends. People who maintain a spirit of thanks tend to be happier, which makes this holiday an annual opportunity to embrace happiness. In short, a spirit of thanks is a recipe for happiness!

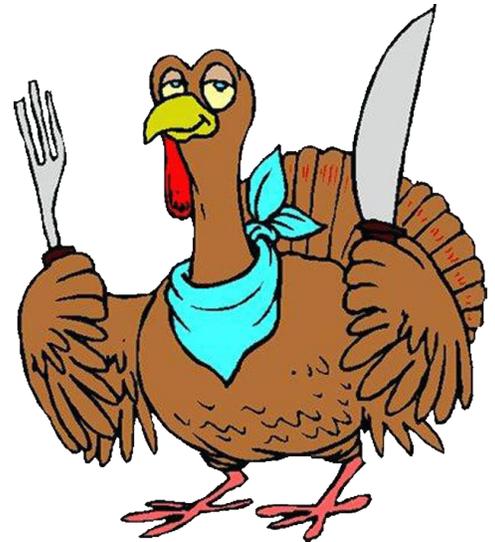

However, November also brings its challenges. The final stubborn piles of leaves, the early sunset after the changing of the clocks, the impending winter, and of course, the potential for those family gatherings to become cauldrons for political arguments and squabbles. This last one is why we can be especially grateful for our Fraternity.

As Freemasons, we have a unique refuge and place of light with our Brothers and in our Masonic temple. We are blessed with meetings where the food is always good, and the conversations are free from the controversial subjects that can plague non-Masonic get-togethers. Our Masonic journey provides a steady source of light even on the darkest of days, and the spirit of goodwill truly marinates our lives through our ritual and principles.

Let us, therefore, resolve to enjoy (and perhaps endure!) the holidays with grace, always grateful for the stabilizing Masonic principles that benefit us year-round.

Special thanks and greetings to all my fellow military veterans for Veterans Day and Happy Thanksgiving to all!
Fraternally,

Craig Cabot Willis
